

Application for the 2018-2019 Rob Kling Center for Social Informatics Travel Grant for Graduate Students

Application due date: Sept 28, 2018
Award notification date: October 8, 2018
Funds MUST be used by: June 30, 2019

The Rob Kling Center for Social Informatics is pleased to announce two travel awards in the amount of $500.00 each to graduate students who are interested in social informatics. The travel awards aim to help defray costs associated with travel to present a paper or poster at an academic conference.

To be considered, students must write a brief statement (up to one page) explaining why they should be awarded the travel grant to attend this conference, complete this form, and attach a copy of their transcript, a CV, and proof of paper or poster acceptance (or other proof that you will appear on the program).

Email your completed application to Pnina Fichman (fichman@indiana.edu) by Sept 28, 2018. Only complete applications will be considered.
